Just what are wedding cake toppers anyway? What a great question. Not many people know what cake toppers are, but they are those little "figures" or "statues" that exist on top of the traditional wedding cake. They seem to scream out "Notice Me...I'm Something Fantastic...I Matter!". From their humble beginnings there is a tremendous variety of wedding cake toppers available in the marketplace today. Let us spend a few moments learning their story...

Where Did This All Begin?

After the description the history is next. Although no accurate records exist of the first time an individual put a tiny little model on the precise top of a wedding cake, a number of traditions do exist. One of the most popular traditions out there these days states that a young girl was engaged and getting married, and she was trying to figure out some way in which she could show the love that she and her husband to be shared for one another. Her father happened to be the town baker, and she gave him the assignment. Due to the fact that he was a baker he without a doubt baked a wedding cake, but he one step further and added a little statue to the top of the cake. He positioned a model of his daughter and future son-in-law on the very top of the cake. This was to display the adoration that these two young people shared for each other.

Did this actually happen? Perhaps. Is it fictional? Perhaps. Does it foreshadow the prominence that the cake topper would have on not only the wedding cake but the big day? This is a given. This mere baker of cakes probably had no idea what a emerging trend he had started. The wedding day would never be the same again...

Consider the 1950's

What do you think of the 1950's? King Elvis and Rock & Roll right? Well cake toppers were about to become much more popular than ever during this decade as men returning from the war started to settle down and develop a family.

More Trendy Than Ever

In the world today we see that cake toppers are just as popular now as they have ever been. Models have changed somewhat to reflect changes, but they are still popular none-the-less. Today you can get wedding cake toppers that depict mixed race marriages, and same-sex marriages as well. Many custom wedding cake toppers are being sold these days. One such model depicts the new bride grabbing her hapless groom by the back of the shirt...preventing him from running away from the altar. Another shows her dragging him back to the minister after he has run off. Some toppers even depict the things that the happy couple can enjoy together.
